CITY TRUSTEES MEET

COUNCIL HANDLES ROUTINE BUSINESS WITH CELERITY AND DISPATCH

The regular weekly meeting of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale was held in the City Hall Monday evening, Sept. 20, 1915. Present, O. A. Lane, president of the board, and Trustees Chas. Grist, J. S. Thompson, A. W. Tower and George Williams. Also present, T. W. Watson, City Manager; J. C. Sherer, City Clerk; H. B. Lynch, Manager Public Service Department; George Herald, City Marshal; A. H. Lankford, City Fire Marshal.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by City Clerk Sherer and the same were approved.

A communication was read from the Monrovia Lodge of Knights of Pythias, whose representatives won the $100 trophy given as a prize at the K. P. picnic held at Verdugo Park, Glendale, Monday, Sept. 6, thanking the City of Glendale for making it possible for them to win such a valuable prize. On motion the communication was received and placed on file.

A communication was read from the Chamber of Commerce asking that the city contribute financial aid for the publication of a Chamber of Commerce booklet. The communication was signed by J. W. Usilton, president, and R. M. Jackson, secretary of the Chamber. Mr. Jackson was present and stated that it is the intention of the Chamber of Commerce to publish an illustrated booklet which will serve as an excellent means of advertising the city. On motion the question was referred to the Welfare Committee, of which A. W. Tower and Chas. Grist are members.

An application was read from G. W. Reaser in which he asked permission to sell milk in the City of Glendale. The application was referred to the Milk Inspector.

City Manager Watson presented a list of items which in his opinion the city should have, and on account of the money necessary to purchase the same being more than can be paid out of the general fund, he recommends that the citizens of Glendale be given an opportunity to vote a bond issue for the amount designated in the communication that follows:

Sept. 20, 1915.

To the Honorable Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

Gentlemen:

I herewith most respectfully submit for your consideration estimate of cost of new equipment for the Fire and Police departments:

One motor-driven Fire Apparatus equipped with a pump of one thousand gallons capacity, and other necessary equipment	$10,200.00
Two thousand (2000) feet of Fire Hose	1,900.00
One Hydraulic Jack	100.00
One Skylight over rear upstairs room in Fire House, two new partitions and lockers, etc.	200.00
Five new Beds and Bedding for Volunteer Firemen	100.00
Equipment for Emergency Hospital to be located upstairs at Fire House, Police Signal Lights in residence districts, and other equipment for Police Department	500.00
Total	$13,000.00

It is needless for me to say that this equipment is greatly needed at this time, and as no provision has been made for the purchase of same in the budget of this year, I would most respectfully recommend that the proposition to vote bonds to the amount of $13,000.00 for the purchase of the aforesaid equipment be placed before the voters of our city at an early date.

Should your honorable body concur in these recommendations and decide to call said bond election, the proceedings for same will be ready for their first reading Wednesday evening of this week.

Yours most respectfully,
T. W. WATSON,
City Manager.

Two resolutions ordering the destruction of weeds in certain sections of the city were read and on motion the same were adopted.

The ordinance for the opening and widening of Eighth street was taken up for a third and final reading. On motion it was adopted and is published elsewhere in this issue of the Evening News.

NEW ROAD PROSPECTS

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COMMITTEE SECURES PROMISE OF FUNDS

What will be one of the greatest boons to Glendale, Tropico and also to the San Fernando Valley when it is completed was practically secured Monday by the committee of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce from the Los Angeles city council and the county supervisors, who lent their countenance to the construction of a continuance of Brand boulevard to Ivanhoe junction and thence to Los Angeles by way of Silver Lake. The matter was approved by the Los Angeles city council, which agreed to submit the question of the bonds for the new bridge to be voted on at the election Nov. 26.

It will be remembered that some time ago the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, the Tropico Chamber of Commerce, the city council of Glendale and representative citizens of Los Angeles formed the Glendale-Los Angeles Brand Boulevard Extension association, with A. M. Brooks chairman.

At a meeting of this association held last Saturday evening a special committee was appointed to look after this matter and to take all necessary steps to secure the construction of an extension of Brand boulevard to Ivanhoe and thence to Los Angeles. This committee consists of Mattison B. Jones, J. H. Braly, Stephen C. Packer, George Woodberry, G. L. Booth, John Roman, Mayor O. E. Lane, Leigh Bancroft, Charles L. Chandler and Charles H. Toll.

With great diligence the general committee of the association had had the proposed route surveyed and fully furnished with those drawings and blueprints of the proposed extension, the new committee went before the city council of Los Angeles and set forth their cause. The council looked favorably on the matter, and after due consideration agreed to place the bond issue of $15,000 before the public to be voted on at the coming election in November. This is highly gratifying to the people of Glendale, as it practically assures those who have been working for this end that the road will soon be constructed.

The matter has further been placed before the county supervisors at their last meeting, Friday, Sept. 17. The supervisors agreed to furnish 25 per cent of the estimated cost ($20,000) of the bridge, thus giving $5000, which, added to the $15,000 to be voted on in November, furnishes the whole of the funds needed for the construction of the bridge.

In addition the residents on this side of the bridge have agreed to provide for the completion of the road there.

Furthermore, the Chamber of Commerce committee interviewed Colonel Griffith of Griffith park, through whose property the proposed new road will pass. The colonel received the committee with great courtesy and gave them to understand that he would do what he could to further the construction of the road. It is believed that there will be no difficulty in getting the necessary right-of-way from the colonel, especially as the road will be a distinct benefit to the adjacent property.

It will be a very great matter for Glendale and Tropico and for the San Fernando Valley also when this road is constructed. It will open up a large tract of country and do much to develop the country roundabout. It will give easy access from Glendale and Tropico to Los Angeles, and will also cut off two miles from the distance between the two cities—Glendale and Los Angeles.

In every way the work of the committee has been excellent and the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce is to be congratulated on his selection of a committee that knows how to set about its work and has brought its commission to a successful conclusion.

GRIFFITH OFFERS LAND

In connection with the plan for the new road from Glendale to Los Angeles by way of Ivanhoe, Colonel Griffith of Griffith Park appeared before the council this morning and offered to donate the land for the approach to the bridge. The council, while expressing their sense of the liberality of the colonel, asked him to put his offer in writing. It was intimated that some way might be found to advance the funds necessary for the construction of the bridge which might be repaid afterward out of the bond issue.

DETAILS FOR THE YEAR

PARENT-TEACHER FEDERATION COMMITTEE ARRANGES A NEW PROGRAM

The first meeting this season of the Parent-Teacher Federation committee was held in the auditorium of the Intermediate school Monday night. Mrs. Hutchinson, the president, presided and called the meeting to order. Principal R. D. White of the Intermediate school read the report of the work done in the summer playgrounds. The report was very encouraging and showed clearly that the playground movement has been of immense value to the community and that it has come to stay.

Mrs. Hutchinson then introduced the chairman of each parent-teacher committee, giving a short outline of the work they are supposed to attend to during the year. She also informed the federation that Mrs. Ross Kurtz had been appointed chairman of patriotism for the first district of the California Congress of Mothers.

It was decided to give a reception to the teachers of the elementary school district of Glendale Thursday evening, Oct. 7. It was also decided to hold a series of meetings for the purpose of discussing the issues placed on the ballot this fall. A resolution was also carried by which it was settled to have a domestic science course for mothers at the Union High school. It was represented that this would be a most valuable course. The arrangements for this course and its supervision were intrusted to the education committee, of which Mrs. C. Toll is chairman. The announcement of the particulars of this course will be made later.

It was announced that a reciprocity day celebration would be held under the direction of the educational committee of the California Congress of Mothers at Santa Monica High school on Friday, Oct. 15. A discussion will be held on the "Value of Parent-Teacher Associations." Dr. Willisford and Mrs. Hutchinson, president of the Glendale P.-T. federation, have been asked to take part in this discussion.

The Rev. Dr. E. H. Willisford then addressed the federation on "Social Life in the School." He urged on parents the importance of holding all school functions in the afternoon, and advocated the early closing of all evening entertainments in order that the children might conserve their strength. It was decided to open the meetings of the executive board to the public in order that the aims and objects of the federation might be understood by all.

The bride carried a handsome bouquet of carnations. The room was transformed into a veritable bower of beauty with a profusion of bamboo and ferns, varied with pink and white carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Aageson went for a brief honeymoon to Long Beach, and are now at home to their friends at 1660 Ruth street.

HOME OF THE LEGHORN

KLAMM POULTRY RANCH MAKES SPECIALTY OF WHITE FOWLS AND BLUE HOMERS

What can be done with a poultry ranch almost in the heart of the city can be seen at the corner of Broadway and Olive street, where the Klamm poultry ranch is situated. It is a large, spacious ranch, with a variety of garden beds and patches of kale and alfalfa, which supply the fowls with the green food so necessary to their health. In addition to the ranch proper, Mr. Klamm cultivates some pieces of adjacent ground, where he raises very fine potatoes, which also help to feed the chickens.

Carefully tended and kept scrupulously clean, the White Leghorns, which constitute the special of this ranch, are a very beautiful spectacle as they run about their neatly laid-out pens. Mr. George Klamm is an expert in this business and is assisted by his son, Mr. John Klamm, the foreman of the ranch, who is also endowed with large practical knowledge of the business and is the active supervisor of the business.

From long observation and practice in taking care of the White Leghorn Mr. Klamm and his son are convinced that this is the most profitable breed for all purposes. The ranch has usually on hand about 800 White Leghorns in various stages of existence. By means of incubators about 900 chickens are hatched annually. There are two brooding rooms. In one of these the temperature, by means of a specially designed heating stove, is kept at a sufficient level, and as the chickens grow older they are let out into the second room to harden them up to a lower temperature before letting them out into the pens.

"The White Leghorn," said Mr. John Klamm, "is a smaller eater than other fowls, and yet lays more eggs on an average than any of them. We have had a very pleasing experience with this breed. It is strong and unusually resistant to all disease under circumstances of ordinary care. We have plenty of pure water on our ranch and we keep everything as clean as possible. In this pen you see 200 young pullets, just beginning to lay.

"It is not the practice of this ranch to keep laying hens after they become too old to be profitable layers. Generally they come to the height of their laying power at about the age of three years. After that it is useless trying to keep them on a commercial basis. In the good laying months we get about a case and a half a day for shipping purposes. Most of that output is taken in Los Angeles, though in the off months, when eggs are scarce, we can dispose of the greater part of our output in Glendale.

"You notice just now that the birds are all moulting. Some of them have already got their new feathers. This is the time the egg output begins to grow small and the price begins to mount. Already we are getting from 35 to 40 cents for our eggs, and they will soon go to 50 cents, if not higher. These conditions will continue till January, when there will be a marked increase in the production, continuing to increase through February, March, April and May, until June, when a very slight decrease will again be noted and will continue to the end of the year.

"In addition to our poultry we keep a large number of pigeons and do quite a trade in the squab business. This department of our ranch is growing yearly, and we find it also profitable. The returns from squabs are quick and certain and pigeons multiply themselves many times in the course of a year. Our stock is chiefly Carneaux and Blue-Barred Homers. We find the squabs of the Carneaux pigeons and also of the Blue-Barred Homers the best sellers. We have blue, red and white homers, and some of our best breeding stock we sell at $5.00 a pair. This part of our business is growing daily, and indeed is taxing our energies to take care of its development."

GUDE-OGDEN WEDDING

A pretty home wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Maude Ogden, 629 North Louise street, Sunday morning, Sept. 19, when her daughter, Miss Mabel Ogden, was united in marriage with Mr. Richard E. Gude. Rev. Walter E. Edmonds of the First Presbyterian church read the beautiful ring service at 9 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Gude left on a short wedding tour, after which they will be at home in Glendale. The groom has been employed with the Southern Pacific in Los Angeles for a number of years. Mrs. Gude has resided in Glendale for some years, where she is very highly esteemed.

TURKEY'S ATTITUDE IN SYRIA

Turkey holds unfortunate Syria by the throat. Beirut, that city of many miseries, is daily subjected to the most cruel supervision. It will be remembered that before the war broke out the Syrians, through their leading men, besought the Turks to grant certain reforms. The movement was known as the "Arab movement." The Turks with ostentatious kindness granted some of these reforms and appointed several Arab leaders to responsible positions in the capital. The rest of the reformers immediately went back into their old condition of somnolence.

Immediately they saw that no one was suspecting them of any sinister designs the Turks made a complete change in the whole situation. Azmi Bey, a notorious persecutor and bully, who was at one time commandant of the police in Constantinople, was appointed vali of Beirut and immediately introduced the methods of government which had made him so notorious in the City of the Golden Horn.

In his new system of government Azmi has the co-operation of the notorious Djemal and the kaiser's agent, with the significant name of Hardegg. Under this government many of the most illustrious Syrians have been arrested and put to death. The trusting members of the reform committee who were given civic posts of dignity are now either dead or thrown into jail, where they will not long exist. Azmi has taken fifty notables of Beirut under military escort to Alley, to be tried by court-martial. That, of course, as everyone acquainted with Turkish methods knows, means death.

Now, the Syrians are calling out for help. They specially call upon the British to come to their aid. Even the inhabitants of the district of Nablous, allMohammedans, are openly and constantly giving vent to their feelings of disgust with the Turks. Arrests of leading notables are of daily occurrence. The Turks have determined to stamp out the reform movement by every means in their power.

From Alexandria comes the news that every steamer from the Syrian ports brings refugees to seek safety under the British flag. Destitute and penniless Jews are leaving Syria in large numbers and seeking a harbor of refuge in Egypt.. These people give terrible tales of conditions in the province of Lebanon. There the inhabitants, harried by the Turks, who give them rest neither day nor night, are begging for rifles wherewith to defend themselves. They blame the allies greatly for not manifesting greater activity in their behalf. "The French," said one of these refugees, "came the other day to Jaffa and shelled the German and Turkish depots there, destroying munitions and equipment of every sort. What was the consequence? The Turkish garrison, assisted by the German contingent, wreaked vengeance on the Syrian inhabitants, whom they accused of sympathizing with the allies. So the last state of that people is worse than the first. Druses and Christians alike can no longer tolerate the attitude of the Turks. They also are tired of the hesitancy and indifference of the allies. United Syria wants only rifles and ammunition and it will defend itself."

Such is the picture of the miserable condition of the Syrian Christian and even of the native Mohammedan under Turkish-German rule. It seems as though the end of Turkish enormities were at hand. Should Constantinople fall into the hands of the allies none will rejoice more than the unfortunate inhabitants of Syria.

GERMANY'S LATEST DRIVE

Field-Marshal Von Hindenburg is at last astride the railway that runs all the way from the German border line to Petrograd. The Kaiser's men when they capture Dvinsk will make their possesion of that line sure. Even now the German position for the winter is absolutely safe and it is possible for them to launch a new and destructive offensive against Riga, which they so much desire as a Baltic base. The railway which runs from Rovno in the south to Riga in the north, with lines extending from Vilna to Petrograd, Moscow, Odessa and through the heart of Russia, is in German possession. It is likely that the Germans will dig themselves in there and will hold on for the winter which is almost in sight.

What the German program will be now, however, is not easy to foresee. They make make their rush on Riga at once and endeavor to get in there before winter falls. Should they succeed in doing so they would have a fine seaport from which they could supply their troops and hold the Russians helpless.

In this way also they could release large bodies of troops for a new drive in the west or for operations in conjunction with the Austrians in the Balkans, with an attempt to drive through to the relief of Constantinople.

It is true that the Russians have been victorious to a certain extent in Galicia, where they have driven back the Austro-German forces twenty miles; but the collapse of their defensive in the neighborhood of Vilna and Dvinsk is likely to compel them to withdraw the troops that have achieved that victory in order to throw them into the defensive line for Riga.

Russia is in a very wretched condition. She has mililons of men still; but even millions of men are no better than millions of sheep when they are without proper organization, equipment and leadership. With her available millions Russia would have been thought capable of at least holding her own against the Germans; but instead of that her defensive has been broken down just as a skillful fencer breaks down the defense of his opponent, demoralizes him and finally beats him altogether.

It is stated that all along the Russian line of defense the grossest mismanagement is visible. Ingenuity displayed in laying down lines of defense and behind that nothing. Modern wire entanglements and most elaborate mazes of trenches, combined with antiquated fortresses and obsolete equipment. There are not lacking instances of the most exalted bravery of Russian troops. There has been heroism in all the ranks. Men have laid down their lives unselfishly and unstintingly; but nothing has availed against the cold-blooded preparation of a powerful military nation that has studied this art of ruthless warfare for the past forty years and put it into execution with a thoroughness that no such unpreparedness as that of the Russians could possibly withstand.

Russia, in the beginning had the advantage of her enormous numbers. Where are they now? It is credibly stated that more than 2,000,000 of them are prisoners in the hands of the Germans; while all Russian Poland lies at the feet of the invaders. Such is the picture that Russia presents at the opening of the second year of the war. It will now be the turn of the allies to see if they can withstand the reinforced drive the Germans are certain to make in the West.

Royalty in Europe seems to have remarkable luck. Both the Kaiser and the queen of Holland were in auto wrecks and escaped with a few cuts. There must be a sweet little cherub that sits up aloft to take care of such dignitaries.

Another slide at the Panama canal has alarmed the pessimists who are bemoaning the possibility of such an obstruction happening when warships might be needed on the Pacific coast. Of course, the canal will eventually be all right; but as someone suggests why not build a few warships for the Pacific coast?

TROPICO

In compliance with numerous requests from the members of the Grand Army and the Woman's Relief Corps of Tropico and Glendale, N. P. Banks camp, Sons of Veterans, has arranged to present an enlarged version of the minstrel show that was so successfully given at the Southern California Veterans' encampment held in Huntington Beach in August. This minstrel show was given before an audience of 2500 or more and it proved the crowning feature of a ten days' delightful continued program.

The cast has been enlarged and, in addition to the minstrel first part, will present an olio of three special acts and a cleverly arranged afterpiece of unusual interest, comprising fun and pathos delightfully intermingled. All participants are working hard to achieve the desired results and are prepared to present a two hours' entertainment that will leave no doubt as to the individual talent of each member who is on the program, and will satisfy those who attend the performance.

Owing to the action of the school board in discontinuing the practice of renting the High school auditorium for such purposes, those in charge of the production were obliged to seek another location, and have arranged to present the minstrel show in the G. A. R. hall, Tropico, Thursday and Friday nights, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, respectively. The cast includes some of the best local talent available. Among others will be seen Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Van Wie, Messrs. Charles Allen, John Stothern, Erward Shipman, Harry Schaefer, W. J. Hibbert, Noble Ripley, Joseph V. Griffin; also Miss Davis Dunbar of Los Angeles. The musical direction is in the capable hands of Mrs. William M. Crawford, who did so much to render the previous performance such a success. The management announces that there will be one dollar's worth of fun for the simple sum of twenty-five cents.

Mrs. Eva M. Blain entertained with a charmingly appointed dinner party at her home on North Coronado street, Los Angeles, Monday evening, complimentary to Mrs. Ella B. Boyer of Terre Haute, Ind., who is the house guest of her cousin, Mrs. David H. Imler of Palm Villa. Other out-of-town guests included Mrs. Imler and her daughter, Miss Marjorie A. Imler.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Crawford and daughter, Miss Margaret Crawford, accompanied by Mrs. Crawford's mother, Mrs. J. H. Henry of North Central avenue, left for San Francisco Friday, where they will spend a fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jarvis of Los Angeles were the guests at luncheon Sunday of Mrs. Ella W. Richardson. Later Mrs. Richardson entertained her guests with a delightful motor trip throughout San Fernando Valley.

Miss Helen Morgan, with Miss Anna Anderson and her sister, Miss Elsie Anderson, motored over to Pasadena Sunday, where they were the guests of the J. V. Sweetsers.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

Washington is preparing for the 49th annual encampment of the G. A. R., which opens in that city next Sunday. Thousands of veterans and their families are expected to attend this, the third encampment held in Washington. The ranks of the old soldiers are gradually thinning, and as this is probably the last session they will hold in the nation's capital, everything is being done to recall the grand review which occurred there at the close of the war. The arrangements committee will make this an occasion which will linger in the memories of "the boys in blue."

MAY SPREAD TO U. S.

Following the "trench knee," the "warrior's wrist" is the latest soldier malady reported from Northern France. It's the peculiar affliction of the wrist and elbow caused by wearing of a strap watch with uniform. Ninety per cent of all the soldiers wear them. Fifty per cent of the 10 have developed "warrior's wrist"—painful at times, but not serious. Frequent glances at the timepiece cause the damage. The arm is flung out with the elbow slightly bent and the palm of the hand down. There is a pause and then a reflex motion that brings the hand up toward the nose. It takes three weeks to develop the peculiar muscular strain commonly known as "warrior's wrist."

PERSONALS

Mrs. M. S. Fishback of Long Beach, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Donald Stewart of Washington, D. C., spent the week-end as guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Anderson, 129 East Colorado boulevard, Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kranz and their little daughter, Miss Barbara, returned home from Hermosa Beach Saturday. They had been spending the summer in their own beautiful beach home there and have had a very bracing and beneficial vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, 101 South Brand boulevard, were members of a unique family party that went by the Harvard to San Diego, where they remained over Sunday. The party consisted, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett, of two of Mr. Bartlett's brothers, Mr. W. H. Bartlett of Pomona, Cal., and Mr. E. S. Bartlett of West Bend, Iowa. Miss Bartlett of West Bend, Iowa, and Mr. Bartlett's other sisters, Mrs. Sudlow of Newton, Iowa, and Mrs. J. M. Border of South Louise street, completed the party, which spent a pleasant time in the southern city.

Mr. William Hyatt of 1634 West Broadway is enjoying a visit from his brother, Mr. George Hyatt of Mellott, Indiana, who arrived Sunday evening to make an extended visit on this coast, including trips to the two expositions. This is Mr. Hyatt's first visit to California and he is enjoying it already. The brothers have been separated for forty years, having seen each other only once during that time, so it is needless to say that they are very happy in this reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Burlinghame of Rockford, Ill., who have been visiting California and the expositions, were guests on Monday at the home of Mr. Henry Johnston, 335 Everett street. The Johnstons and the Burlinghames were old friends in Rockford. Mr. and Mrs. Johnston took their visitors Monday around the neighboring country in their auto. Mr. and Mrs. Burlinghame were specially pleased with Pasadena and the Busch gardens, and indeed with all the wonderful California scenery. The visitors have gone today to Catalina island and will visit Mr. and Mrs. Johnston on their way back to the East.

Special music will be given. Admission is free and the public is invited. GLENDALE SHAKESPEARE CLUB

After a brief recess for vacation purposes the Glendale Shakespeare club, which had so successful a career last season, will resume its Shakespeare studies Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan, 1550 Myrtle street. This season the club will take up the study of "Macbeth" under the guidance of Mrs. Sloan, who is an expert in the Shakespeare drama. The wonderful interpretation of "Hamlet" given by Mrs. Sloan at the sessions of the club last season give the club assurance of as dramatic a setting forth of "Macbeth." The club has 70 members and an average attendance of 50, which is quite enough to fill even the spacious rooms of Mrs. Sloan's residence, where the club meets.

COLUMBUS AVENUE P. T. A.

Columbus Avenue Parent-Teacher association will hold its first meeting of the new season in the kindergarten room of the school Thursday, Sept. 23. Please note the hour and be prompt. There will be a program of readings and music, after which Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson will speak on the work of the parent-teacher association from state and national viewpoints. This meeting should prove of immense value to all members of the association. All are welcome. Refreshments will be served.

SANG IN THE BATTLE

ITALIAN PRIEST DIES ON FIELD WHILE ADMINISTERING LAST RITES OF CHURCH

"The singing chaplain of Kingdom-come," they called him up in the blood-drenched valley of the Isonzo. For when the Austrian bullets were shrieking past and the shrapnel was tearing human lives into shreds and bombs were making a writhing hell of that mountain paradise, the little chaplain of Castellano was calling to the men who were fighting to thing of the greater kingdom of Italy, and to the men who were fighting to think of the still greater Kingdom to come.

In between battles the little priest from Castellano, who was one of the first to offer his services as an army chaplain, used to sing as the bersaglieri and the other soldiers had never heard singing. Sometimes his eyes grew dim as he thought of his parish in Castellano and his singing school founded in honor of the great Vatican music master Perosi, where he taught the boys of Castellano to sing the beautiful church music. Pietro Giannuzzi, lieutenant-chaplain of the ——— regiment, left behind him one of the accomplished ambitions of his life—a real singing school—when he marched away for the war. But when he saw the stars upon his arm he said he had done a bigger thing, he had seen a great bond woven between the country he loved and the church he worshiped. Giannuzi was one of those brave priests who had suffered long when dissensions between church and state made the duty of the Italian clergy obscure. When he marched to war he typified the spirit of religious Italy, bound to the church, but bound to the Patria by blood ties.

All the soldiers loved this brave little chaplain who was always there to give the saving rites to the soldiers who fell.

The first Sunday that Giannuzzi celebrated mass on the battlefield and on "redeemed" Italian soil, before one of the portable army altars supplied Italy by the Pope, when he saw the Italian soldiers gather round worshiping the church and state in one, as he said, his prayer had been answered. Then he hurried away to help some poor fellow cross the divide into Kingdom-come.

"Don't be afraid of Austrian bullets—think of Kingdom-come," he cried while the officers endeavored to dissuade him from taking so many chances.

But the army chaplain whose thoughts are of his country and of his religion finds his place beside the men who are falling; and Giannuzzi was always near the front.

"They wouldn't kill a priest," gasped a young soldier from Tivolli, his lung pierced by an Austrian bullet. The chaplain was bending over him and the last rites of the church were being given the dying boy when a bullet flying true and certain struck him. He died there on the battlefield with the sacred words of the church on his lips—the first Italian army chaplain to fall.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO PARENTS OF HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

The Glendale Union High School wishes to take this means to inform the parents and guardians of the boys and girls attending the High school of our attitude toward class pins, rings, sweaters, etc. It is an annual question of expenditure. We counsel and urge the homes and the young people to co-operate with the school in making these class emblems of just as inexpensive a nature as possible, and we wish to emphasize the fact that no parent or student is under any obligation whatever to purchase one of these class badges or rings, and the student will be more loyal to the best interests of the school if he or she uses his or her influence in limiting the expenditure in this direction, and any boy or girl can be just as loyal to the school's best interests without purchasing one of these, as he can be if he indulges in this luxury. We wish to go on record before the people of the Glendale Union High school district as counseling and urging the strictest economy in these matters, and we shall appreciate greatly the co-operation of the homes in limiting this unnecessary expenditure.

President Board of Trustees.
GEO. U. MOYSE,

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE'S DAY

At 7:30 Sunday evening, Sept. 26, the Baptist Young People's Union will have charge of the service at the First Baptist church, Third and Louise streets. The society has planned a fine program. Special orchestra music, good singing, interesting speakers. You are invited. Bring your Brown and Curry song book.

CRISIS OF THE WORLD

REV. JOHN TROY TELLS OF PRINCIPLE OF REPETITION IN DIVINE PROPHECY

With a splendid class in attendance the Monday evening lecture at the First Baptist church, the second in the series on "The Present World Crisis in the Light of Prophecy," which are being delivered nightly by Rev. J. H. Troy, was given. The outlines of these lectures appear daily in the Glendale News.

Rev. J. H. Troy

Last night's lecture was as follows:

"Both history and prophecy repeat themselves. The six dispensations, Edenic, Antediluvian, Post-diluvian, Patriarchal, Mosaic, Christian and Millennial, all commence with sacrifice and revelaton and end with judgment and election. In general each dispensation commences with light and ends with darkness. The current dispensation is no exception to this principle of repetition. Already the hour of unprecedented darkness is coming upon the whole earth. There will be no letup till Egyptian darkness gives way to the purple dawn and golden splendor of the bright millennial morn.

" 'Lo! He comes, with clouds descending,
Once for favored sinners slain;
Thousand, thousand saints attending,
Swell the triumphs of His train;
Hallelujah!
God appears on earth to reign.'

"The principle of repetition in divine prophecy is seen in the three great restorations of Israel. The Egyptian restoration suggests to the careful student every feature of the Babylonian and final restoration of Israel, the two latter being but repetitions of the first. Abram in a horror of great darkness saw the future captivity of his seed in Egypt. Four hundred years was the exact period revealed to the patriarch. He also saw with prophetic vision Israel's complete restoration to the land of promise. (Gen. 15:12-18.) Joseph possessed the same prophetic vision and in his dying moments gave commandment that his bones be taken back to the holy land when God should visit his people in restoration. (Gen. 50:22-28.)

"The Babylonian captivity had its prophet Jeremiah, who foretold the 70 years' duration of captivity (Dan. 9:1-19), and the certain restoration of God's chosen people (Ezra 2). This restoration was partial (Ezra 7:13). Daniel, like Joseph in Egypt, rises to great honor and position over the Gentiles while in Babylonian captivity. So is it today. We behold the seed of Abraham scattered among the nations of the earth. Jews occupy the places of prominence in the realm of learning and financial power.

"The final restoration of Israel, spoken of as the second restoration (Isa. 11:11, 12), a restoration complete and final, is yet future. (Ezek. 39:28, 29.) Christ tells us that Israel will not be restored till the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled (Luke 21:20-24). There is sure evidence that the 'times of the Gentiles' period are drawing to a close. The last restoration but repeats on a larger scale all of the elements of the preceding restorations.

"In God's dealings with the nations of the earth we discover the same principle of repetition. The judgment of the flood (Gen. 7:23) suggests the judgment of the nations in the battle of Armageddon (Joel 3:9-17; Rev. 19:17-21), and these two judgments prefigure the final judgment of Gog and Magog (Rev. 20:7-9). God has only one thought for the nations of the earth outside Israel, and that is to wipe them out and give headship to Israel.

"The church shines like the sun above the sea of humanity with its repeating waves of restoration for Israel and breakers of Gentile judgments. Two features are presented to the prophetic vision in the study of the church, namely, Christ and His church. All that is said of Christ may be repeated with respect to Christians who compose his church. In the gospels Christ is crucified, buried, raised and ascends to heaven. Likewise every true Christian is crucified with Christ (Gal. 2:20, 21), buried and raised with Christ (Rom. 6:3-5), and will ascend to meet Christ in the air (1 Thes. 4:13-18).

"The true church has no place on this earth. It is conceived to be with Christ in the heavenly places. (Eph. 1:3-14.)

"There is, however, a church of this world, which is doomed to be swallowed up in God's judgment of the nations. The true church has but one song:

" 'I'm waiting for Thee, Lord,
Thy beauty to see, Lord,
I'm waiting for Thee,
For Thy coming again.' "

The lecture this evening will be on "The Nations of the Earth in the Light of Prophecy." All denominations welcome.

LA CRESCENTA

The party given by Mrs. Belle Miller at her pleasant home last Saturday evening in honor of the young people of this community was a most decided success. The evening was very entertainingly spent with original games, one a burlesque track meet between Occidental and Southern California colleges, furnishing much merriment. Refreshments were served and the 15 persons present are unanimous in thanking Mrs. Miller and her daughter for the enjoyable time. Those present were Esther Connelly, Roberta Hopping, Dorothy Cookson, Gwendolyn Claflin, Alberta Bertrand, Beatrice Volker, Violet Brown, Isabel and Gladys Thompson, Ted Hopping, George Scowe, Beryl Johnson, Walter Clarke, Carol Foy and Bruce Thompson.

Judge Sparger is the owner of a thoroughbred Jersey milch cow recently purchased in Glendale.

Miss Nell Miller attended a china shower given to a friend in Hollywood Saturday afternoon.

School opened this morning with an attendance of 45 pupils in the upper grades and about 30 in the lower. Miss Mollie Brand is principal.

Mrs. W. B. Claflin sold to Mr. Pardee of Los Angeles five acres on Los Angeles avenue for a cash consideration. Water will be piped to the land this week. Mr. Pardee intends to improve the tract with a $3000 residence, garage, etc., and will make this his home.

Beginning this week, the library will be open Tuesday and Friday afternoons from 3 to 5.

PENROSE NOMINATING MAYOR

Philadelphia republicans today are nominating former Postmaster T. B. Smith for mayor of Philadelphia, and on Nov. 2 they probably will elect him to the office. Every indication is that the Penrose organization will have things its own way once more, which is a pleasant thing for the organization since two hundred million dollars' worth of municipal contracts will be awarded during the next mayor's term. Lack of unity among opposing forces seems likely to make matters easy for the city g. o. p. managers, while the unity in the latter organization is marvelous to behold. Smith's nomination at today's primary was made a certainty by the withdrawal of all but one other candidate just late enough to prevent disgusted independent republicans from offering another name.

A repetition of the coup by which Blankenberg was elected is not anticipated, since the unity seems all to be inside the old guard.

NEW OIL FIELD

Arkansas City, Kans., is the proud parent of the youngest oil territory in the mid-continent field, and oil men from all parts of this section are swarming in.

The excitement started when a test on what is known as the Alberti place developed a thousand-barrel production at 3400 feet, with only six feet of the pay sand penetrated. No sooner did the Alberti well show this big production than rigs began to go up on all sides and races for further productions are now going on night and day. An electric light plant has been constructed on the field. The landscape for several miles around at night sparkles with electrical equipment.

The flow of gas at the Alberti has been so strong since the well was brought in that the drillers have not risked a try at taking the tools out or a trial at going deeper in the sand. It is considered remarkable for the flow at so shallow a puncture of the sand. The field remains undefined and there is a wild scramble for leasing in every direction, and fabulous prices are paid in many instances. nI a scattering way the operations cover a distance of 25 miles along a strip of developed natural gas territory from the southwest to the northeast of Arkansas City.

No field in the West ever took on the activity in such a short time that is evidenced there, and many hundreds of thousands of dollars are being spent in development, with little or no certainty as to the exact lay of the pool. In the meantime, Arkansas City is reaping a harvest from the speculators and business from the tent colonies in every direction. That no town should start up near its border to get the business from the oil district, the commercial club has constructed model highways to the field.

AN AGED FISHERWOMAN

Although she will be 80 years old in October, Mrs. M. J. Helmer of Cleveland, Ohio, fishes every day off a pier in Edgewater park. That has been the old lady's chief amusement for the last ten years, and on any pleasant afternoon she may be found where the piscatorial prizes are biting best. Old residents say Mrs. Helmer has caught more fish in her time than any other single fisherman or fisherwoman on the Great Lakes. Some days she lands so many fine prizes that her grandchildren have to help her lug them home.
